Good day Johann,

Just wanted to follow up on this email that I sent last week.

Thanks,
David Silverman

Subject: Army Corps of Engineers Permit Application 200412518 (Summers End Group, St John Marina, Coral Bay)

Dear Johann,

I don't know if you are the right person for me to contact, but I had your card in my file from the Army Corps information meeting in St Thomas, and since it indicates your title is "Project Manager", and in my experience the project managers are the only people who actually know anything ... I'll give it a try.

I am trying to find out the status of the ACOE Permit Application by the Summers End Group for the "St John Marina" located in Coral Bay, St John, USVI. I believe it has been assigned permit application number 200412518.

I have several questions:

1. How can I assure that I am "kept in the loop" on activities relating to this application? Is there an "interested parties" distribution list? Do I need to file periodic FOIA requests (which I know are very time consuming and burdensome for the agency)?

2. When will it be determined whether the project requires a Section 10 permit, a Section 404 permit, or both?

3. When will the public be able to submit testimony on this application?

I know it is very early in the process, but we've just been through a very painful Coastal Zone Management permit process and want to make sure that we stay ahead of the curve on the Army Corps permitting process.

Thank you in advance,

David Silverman, Resident, Coral Bay, St John, USVI
